A Message from Dennis Johns

Let's Dance

In my recent reading during participation in the Apprentice Institute I was introduced to The Great Dance by J. Baxter Kruger. Every page of that book is filled with encouragement and enlightenment with such quotes such as: "The great dance is being played out every day in our lives. Our inclusion in the great dance is not a goal. It is not something that we must attain or achieve. It is the way things are. It is the light of the world, the secret of human existence, and all creation groans for us to see it."

The emphasis of this quote was repeated throughout the book as it relates to our understanding that the great dance is not something that we strive to be a part of, but it is something that we are participating in right this very minute. The Trinitarian life is a communal life with the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit actively participating WITH us in creating this great life of the dance in all we do think and say; in all we are participants together. I put emphasis on the WITH because so much of the time Christians act as if they are alone. This happens as we allow distractions of life and the schemes of the deceiver keep us from seeing or participating in the dance.

I know the word dance is something that we Baptist have tried to stay very calm about; but I would like to propose that we all take a deep breath and then find our dancing shoes. May we be intentional about participating with the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit in every bit of glory that is offered and be continually enlightened by God's presence in every aspect of our being. We have been invited to dance...shall we?

Thanks for all the "blessings" you wrote to me upon my retirement on June 9. I enjoyed reading every one of them. It was a great way to start our retirement trip to Alaska. Thank you also for all the kind words spoken at the reception.

Hope to see everyone when we return.

Thanks again for everything!
